South Vietnamese Sees No Major Disagreements

PARIS (AP) — Vice President Nguyen Cao Ky of South Vietnam said he found no disagreement with top U.S. negotiators on Vietnamese peace talks after another meeting today despite the remarks of Defense Secretary Clark M. Clifford in Washington.

"I didn't see any disagreements," the Saigon leader said after meeting an hour and 40 minutes with chief U.S. peace talks envoy, W. Averell Harriman, and deputy Cyrus R. Vance.

"Really, I do not know why Mr. Clifford, staying far away in Washington, could have any remarks about disagreements here," Ky said.

Clifford drew anger from the South Vietnamese negotiators with remarks on a Sunday television program. Clifford laid much blame on Saigon for the procedural discussion that has been holding up the four-way peace conference.

Ky had retorted Monday that Clifford has shown a gift ever since taking office of "saying the wrong thing at the wrong time."

He also conferred with Harriman and Vance Monday along with Ambassador Pham Dang Lam, chief of his delegation. Today Ky said he still stands by that statement.

Both Ky and Harriman indicated that their session at the Saigon delegation headquarters went smoothly. Harriman said Clifford's remarks were not mentioned and the Americans had "a very good talk with the vice president" about "our common problems" with a view to having a united front.

Ky said the allied negotiators did not get into any further compromise proposals about the shape of the table for the peace parley. The dispute over a table shape for the negotiating has been one of the principal bottlenecks to starting the conference.

The South Vietnamese chief indicated he was standing out

Expect Nixon's Choice For Ambassador to UN

NEW YORK (AP) — President-elect Nixon, meeting today with Secretary-General U Thant of the United Nations, definitely will announce by the end of the week his Democratic choice as U.S. Ambassador to the United Nations.

In advance of Nixon's Thant meeting, Ronald L. Ziegler, press spokesman for the president-elect, said Nixon's choice for the U.N. job would be announced this week—leaving open the possibility he might let the secretary-general be the first to know.

Nixon asked to see Thant in a move described by Ziegler as one designed to demonstrate "Mr. Nixon's support of the United Nations."

Perhaps more significantly, he added that the session alongside the East River would open communications between the incoming chief executive and the head of the world organization.

Going to the UN with Nixon were his secretary of state-designate William P. Rogers; his national security advisor, Henry A. Kissinger; Robert D. Murphy, his go-between with the Johnson administration, and J. Russell Wiggins, President Johnson's recently-installed replacement as ambassador to the United Nations.

Sargent Shriver, ambassador to France and and brother-in-law of Sen. Edward Kennedy, D-Mass., remained the principal betting favorite in whatever contest there might be for the U.N. ambassadorship. However, it was clear that, with the passage of days, the potential Shriver nomination was becoming less likely—perhaps because of objections from within the Kennedy family. The possibility arose that the position would go again to Wiggins or, by more remote chance, perhaps to Sen. Henry M. Jackson, D-Wash., classed as a far outsider who nevertheless has been in repeated contact with Nixon and has hedged when asked about continued service in the Senate.

Nixon set up for himself today his heaviest publicly announced schedule. In 30-minute segments he was seeing the Emir of Kuwait, Sen.-elect Barry Goldwater of Arizona, lame duck Republican Gov. Tim Wabnitz of Montana, once seen as the possible secretary of the interior.

Decorations Burden Not Shared Fairly

If the Christmas decorations in downtown Sedalia fail to impart the impression that the city is an upcoming community, this could be because 39 per cent of the businesses in the area bear 100 per cent of the financial load of decorations.

Figures compiled by the Christmas Promotions Committee show that this year the downtown merchants and other businesses were assessed at the rate of one dollar per front foot for decorations. Of the 155 businesses assessed, on Ohio from Main through Seventh, and from Kentucky through Massachusetts, only 55 businesses paid anything. Most of these businesses paid their requested share, while some 10 per cent of the total paid several times their share, just to improve the looks of the downtown area.

Considering the fact that some businesses paid more than their share, total collections this year were a little more than $2,000, or about 50 per cent of the amount requested, paid by the 39 per cent of progressive businesses.

The Christmas Promotions Committee, composed of the Rev. Medford Speaker, Frank Mehl, P. J. Hedderick and Jim Callis, started this year some $200 in the red, and were immediately faced with a bill for some $400 for rental, insurance and storage of decorations. The payments this year took care of the bills.

Reversal on a Cablevision Bid

Cablevision, Inc., was granted its rate increase at the City Council meeting Monday night, when the council reversed itself and voted 4 to 2 to permit the increase.

Councilman Leo Letourneau introduced a motion to the council to reconsider Cablevision's request to raise its rates to $4.90 per month and charge a $10 installation fee for all new subscriptions to the company. The old rate was $4.50 per month and there was no installation fee. His motion was brought about after considerable review of the matter in a pre-council meeting.

Under a contract entered into by Cablevision and the City of Sedalia, Cablevision must pay the city a 10 percent fee each year and the City Council must approve all rate changes by Cablevision.

There is no law in Missouri giving a municipality the right to place a franchise fee on any service such as the one provided by Cablevision. This fee was placed on Cablevision by the city on a "theory of law," not a written one, it was brought out.

Cablevision's request to raise its rates was the result of financial difficulties and federal regulations placed upon Cablevision, according to James Buckley, attorney for Cablevision. It was pointed out that had the council not granted Cablevision's request or that Cablevision had not complied with the city ordinance providing for the franchise fee, costly law suits, which neither could afford, might ensue.

With councilmen Robinson and Simons absent from the meeting, a 4-to-2 vote in favor of the rate increase followed after Councilman Schumaker made a motion to allow the increase. Councilman Snavely the questioned the legality of allowing the increase on a 4-2 vote, saying a majority vote by the full council should be obtained.

Mayor Walker said he would let the vote stand unless challenged. He explained he would vote yes, if necessary at a later date, saying that operating costs have gone up and that if the matter were to go to court it would be at the city's expense, which it cannot afford.

One city official said Tuesday that the council's decision was actually the best of two alternatives. He said there was a feeling that had the council

Action On Crime Urgent

JEFFERSON CITY (AP) — "Crime in the streets is the number one domestic problem in the minds of citizens of this state and this country."

"It should be first in priority of effort and support, financial and in other ways. This is not now the case."

"We cannot wait for the quality of life in Missouri to be improved to the optimum level that many believe is the answer to delinquency and crime."

The grim words came from the report released today by the Governor's Citizens Committee on Delinquency and Crime. It warned Gov. Warren E. Hearnes and the Legislature a remedial program will cost money, but it said action cannot be delayed.

LT. Gov. Thomas F. Eagleton was chairman of the committee which produced the 251-page report after two years of work. Co-chairman was Isaac Gurman, former St. Louis police commissioner and former director of the St. Louis Bureau for Men.

"Substantial improvement of the justice system," the report said, "will require the expenditure of substantial sums. Yet the inadequacies of the present system exact a far greater cost, not only in dollars but also in the sufferings experienced by the victims of crime and in the wasted lives of those who are never successfully discharged from the system."

The committee had a $10,000 state appropriation to work with plus a $40,000 federal grant. It limited its study to police administration, the juvenile offender, jails, misdemeanor courts, probation and parole and adult correctional institutions.

Here are some of the key recommendations:

Police — general upgrading and integration of local and statewide police services to cope with increasing delinquency and crime, with mandatory minimum standards for officers and higher pay.

Jails — minimum standards for all jails and a state jail inspection service plus a system of regional jails. About half of all jails should be closed as soon as adequate facilities are available.

SHOPPING DAYS 'TIL CHRISTMAS

The National Communicable Disease Center in Atlanta said that the presence of the Hong Kong variety of flu was confirmed in 16 states, the District of Columbia and Puerto Rico.

The center was besieged by telephone queries about the epidemic and one hurried official said: "Some people have colds and some people have something else, and it's all being called Hong Kong flu."

Among the notables suffering from the flu were Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey, Richard Cardinal Cushing of Boston and Gov. Richard J. Hughes of New Jersey.

Telephone Cable Cut By Accident

The service department of Southwestern Bell Telephone Co. reported telephone service restored at 12:10 p.m. today after a sewer construction crew sliced through a telephone cable on the western edge of Sedalia about 9:30 a.m.

Telephones in that area were cut off and burglar alarms were activated at Bing's in the State Fair shopping center, and at the Tempo store in the Thompson Hills center.

US Marines Search Mountains for Reds

SAIGON (AP) — Five thousand U.S. Marines backed by more than 200 air strikes are sweeping the mountains' 30 miles southwest of Da Nang in a major operation, U.S. headquarters disclosed today.

Lifting the security lid on the 11-day-old drive, Operation Taylor Common, a spokesman said 123 North Vietnamese and Viet Cong have been killed and 41 suspects captured since the operation began Dec. 7.

He said 18 Marines had been killed and 73 wounded.

It is the second massive Marine sweep south of Da Nang in less than five weeks. On Dec. 8, 7,000 U.S. and South Korean marines and South Vietnamese infantrymen ended 20-day Operation Meade River, a 50-square-mile cordon centered 15 miles south of Da Nang. In that sweep, the Marines reported 862 enemy and 95 Marines killed and 504 Marines wounded.

A U.S. spokesman said intelligence reports and observations by Marine scouts indicate troops from two or three enemy regiments might be in the mountains. He said these might include troops from a regiment battered in the earlier operation who are trying to reach Laos to wait for replacements.

About 25 Air Force B52 bombers dropped 750 tons of explosives on enemy troop concentrations, a staging area and supply depots Monday and today in support of the maneuvering Marines.

A damage assessment was not available as the Marines were reported still three to four miles away from the targets.

Elsewhere in the war, North Vietnamese troops sprang an ambush today on a U. S. Army convoy traveling a vital American supply line 42 miles northwest of Saigon, but an armored column and airborne reinforcements beat the attackers off and killed 50 of them.

Five Americans were killed, and 11 were wounded and several trucks in the 50-vehicle convoy were damaged, but the others made it to the allied base at Dau Ting.

Fighting continued into the night as Infantrymen of the U.S. 25th Division chased the enemy force.

Twelve miles away, U.S. forces surprised a sampan trying to slip down the Saigon River Monday night and killed 15 guerrillas.

Other U.S. and South Vietnamese forces reported 95 Viet Cong and North Vietnamese killed in five clashes ranging from the Mekong Delta to the northernmost provinces. There were no U.S. casualties and South Vietnamese losses were put at one killed and 21 wounded.

Thirty-five B52s unleashed 1,050 tons of explosives on the infiltration corridors north of Saigon. The heaviest concentration of strikes was along the Cambodian border 41 miles northwest of the capital, near Parrot's Beak, a major enemy base inside Cambodia and the headquarters of the North Vietnamese 9th Division.

In the central highlands, enemy gunners shelled Ban Me Thuot airfield Monday night and damaged seven American helicopters. Other gunship helicopters took to the air to attack the enemy batteries, but no casualties were reported on either side.

Appointed To County Commission

The Pettis County Court, upon their own recommendation, and at the direction of Dexter Davis, commissioner of agriculture, has made three appointments to the Pettis County Weed Control Board.

Appointed as chairman of the board to serve a three-year term was W. P. Nicholson, LaMonte, Russell J. McFatrach, Route 1 and W. H. Pittman, Route 5, were also appointed to the board.

McFatrach will serve a two-year term on the board, and Pittman will serve for one year.

According to the presiding judge of the County Court, Henry Lamm, the board will be primarily responsible for the extermination of Johnson grass in Pettis County.

The Johnson grass control and eradication law, which is activated only by local option in an election, was passed in the general election Nov. 5.

The law allows the county court, township board, or special road district declared to be a Johnson grass extermination area, to declare a tax levy of up to 5 cents on each $100 assessed valuation of property which is subject to its authority.

In Pettis County, it was estimated that $7,000 a year would be required to control the weed.

The cost of controlling and eradicating Johnson grass on lands and highways supervised and controlled by the State Highway Department, will be paid by the Highway Department.

30 States Report Flu Outbreaks

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Outbreaks of flu and respiratory disease were reported in 30 states today as the wave of influenza-like illness continued to spread. Health authorities said the peak of the epidemic still appeared several weeks away.

The National Communicable Disease Center in Atlanta said that the presence of the Hong Kong variety of flu was confirmed in 16 states, the District of Columbia and Puerto Rico.

The center was besieged by telephone queries about the epidemic and one hurried official said: "Some people have colds and some people have something else, and it's all being called Hong Kong flu."

Poverty Board Planning To Relocate in Lincoln

By DOUG KNEIBERT
Assistant Editor

Mid-Missouri Community Action Corp., made all but final plans to move to Lincoln from Sedalia at the area board's monthly meeting held Monday night at MMCAC headquarters, 605 South Massachusetts.

Richard Adams, Warrensburg, area board president, heard reports from various board members to the effect that at least two businessmen in Lincoln are prepared to build new quarters for MMCAC and lease to the agency. The board approved a motion to get firm offers from the Lincoln men regarding type of structure to be built, rent, etc.

The board indicated that nothing definite would be decided until after the close of the OEO program year in February, but the consensus was that if the offer from Lincoln met MMCAC specifications — and it appeared it would — the agency would leave Sedalia.

Adams said the move had been under study "for three or four months," and said the Lincoln site would make the MMCAC more centrally located in the four-county area, provide more floor space for the agency, allow for adequate parking and facilities.

Under questioning, however, Adams conceded that a major factor in the decision was the lack of good relations with local government units in Sedalia and Pettis County. In Lincoln, he said, "We will be able to conduct our business without interference from anybody."

Another MMCAC official said the federal government likes anti-poverty agencies to work in "congenial" communities, adding that in his opinion, Sedalia has not met this requirement.

Hardy Cobb, Community Action program director, in discussing the proposed move, said another factor is involved — the likelihood of a merger of MMCAC with another agency to the south, to form a 9-county anti-poverty district. Cobb said mergers of districts have been the trend with the Office of Economic Opportunity over recent years. He said tentative plans of the regional OEO office in Kansas City would divide the new, combined area into two districts, with offices in Appleton City and Lincoln.

It was pointed out, however, that this is all tentative, and that the board's reasons for moving to Lincoln would be valid even if the merger didn't materialize.

Adams said another factor bearing on the issue of MMCAC's future here would be whether the Sedalia City Council and County Court stand firm in their decision to withdraw from the MMCAC program, thus closing out all OEO programs here. He said he had a letter from the City

Retracts Advice On R & R With In-Laws

Dear Readers: The wet noodle comes out of semi-retirement. I goofed. Your letters, thousands of them, have persuaded me to change my advice.

Remember the wife who wrote that her husband was in Vietnam and she planned to join him in Hawaii for R. and R.? (R. and R. stands for Rest and Recreation — a seven to 10 day break for men who have served at least six months in a combat area.)

The wife's in-laws announced they were going to Hawaii, too. She was sick at heart and asked if she should tell them to stay home. I said it was not her place to do this, that her husband should write his parents and invite them to Hawaii "for three or four days." I added, "Don't forget they love and miss him, too."

My advice was based on the erroneous impression that R. and R. was from two to three weeks. Shame on me! People who give advice should have the facts, not erroneous impressions.

So — to all you in-laws out there who are packing to join your sons in Hawaii — please unpack and stay home.

Here is a sample of the mail that changed my mind:

From Chicago: Dear Ann Landers: I used to think you were smart but after that advice you gave to the service wife who was planning to meet her husband in Hawaii for R. and R., I think you are a dried up old prune with no romance in your soul. Why don't you give up and go to an Old Folks Home?

Fredericksburg, Va.: Your suggestion to the G.I.'s wife that he invite his parents to Hawaii for "three or four days" floored me. Don't you know R. and R. is only five days, including travel time? Look who calls OTHER people Dummy!

Springfield, Mass.: My husband and I had our second honeymoon during his R. and R. and it was better than our first. How in the world could you suggest his parents be included? Are you out of your mind?

Washington, D.C.: Any married man who would want his parents around during R. and R. is not grown up enough to have a wife. If my husband expressed such a wish I'd let his folks have him for keeps.

St. Petersburg, Florida: My in-laws, God bless them, stayed with our children so I could go to Hawaii to join my husband for R. and R. (My own mother didn't offer.) Is it any wonder I love my in-laws so much?

Vallejo, California: So his parents love him and miss him, too? Well — I'll bet his grandmother also loves and misses him. Why didn't you suggest that she go to Hawaii? Drop dead.

You've made your point, people — again proving that everybody knows better than anybody. My thanks and my apologies.

Ann Landers' new book, "Truth Is Stranger . . ." is full of wit, wisdom and down-to-earth advice. $4.95 at any bookstore.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper, enclosing a self-addressed, stamped envelope. (c) 1968, Publishers-Hall Syndicate

Madrigal In Rotary Program

A beautiful Christmas program was presented by the Madrigal Singers and Glee Club from Smith-Cotton High School at the noon meeting of the Rotary Club Monday at the Bothwell Hotel. These two groups of young singers, under the direction of Mrs. Geraldine Schrader, were especially inspiring as they sang the many favorite carols and other lively Christmas songs.

Bob Hartzler was program chairman. The meeting was presided over by Dr. Stanley Fisher and invocation was given by Garland Groom.

The club voted to send a girl to Girls' State again this year. Rotarians, it was announced, are scheduled to ring the bell for the Salvation Army on Wednesday.

Guests were introduced by Bud Brown as follows: Bill Tate and Ken Johnston, both of the Clinton Rotary Club; Joe Smith, Independence, guest of Donald Barnes; Tim Riney and Steve Hunt, Smith-Cotton High School students.

New Labor Secretary Is Experiment-Minded

By JOHN CUNIFF
AP Business Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — George P. Shultz, chosen by President-elect Nixon as his secretary of labor, considers unemployment among young nonwhites as a "large, serious and growing" problem underlying urban unrest.

Shultz meticulously dissected the dilemma of ghetto unemployment early this year in an address before the Center for Policy Study, based at the University of Chicago, where he is dean of the Graduate School of Business.

In the paper, which Shultz reworked this summer, the next labor secretary revealed himself as in favor of innovation and a "flavor of experimentation," and as a man who believes that slum residents should be heavily involved in their own job-opportunity programs.

Shultz said that private money inevitably must be involved in developing training programs and jobs for young nonwhites. He said he foresees a large role for corporate-government efforts and suggested: novel financing method.

The method would involve an annual appropriation of funds by Congress, but buying power would then be given to individuals, though not necessarily in the form of money.

"A person could receive credits entitling him to $5,000 worth of training, counseling and wage subsidy benefits. It would be up to him to exercise these credits to his best advantage, as in the operation of the G.I. Bill," he said.

Shultz conceded that this approach unnerves some planners, but maintained that if experimented with, the rewards might be great both for the job seeker and the school system.

"The expectation would be," he said, "that new or drastically altered institutions of training would emerge, tailored much more to the needs of the disadvantaged."

"Alternatively or concurrently, experimental schools might be established in the ghetto, directly addressing themselves to the problems of their people without respect to the rest of the school system."

Shultz suggested that a federal-city-neighborhood private school might be established in the slums, operated by a non-school system group, specifically for experimentation on such education problems.

One objective, he said, would be to place control in the hands of the people to be helped, and to encourage the development of an education system keyed to the problems of ghetto unemployment.

In stating his opinions, Shultz observed that "unemployment today is a disease that is endemic among nonwhite teenagers while the general population enjoys robust health."

While joblessness among whites declined from 1961 to 1967, he observed, the unemployment rate for teen-age nonwhites remained the same at 28 per cent, or seven times the national average.

Shultz said the enlistment of the private sector was desirable but that it raised issues of its own. What, he asked, should be done about tardy workers, absences, conflicts, unproductiveness? How should a company maintain its efficiency while forced to be more tolerant and permissive?

To discharge the employee, he contended, would hardly solve the problem. Instead, he suggested the unsatisfactory worker might be dropped from one company but automatically employed by another firm.

Shultz expressed his thoughts at a conference on "Race and Unemployment" held by the Center for Policy Study, and organization founded in 1965 to promote dialogue between scholars and public figures.

Students Emphasize Demands With More Campus Disorder

NEW YORK (AP) — Student demands for a greater voice in school affairs have led to a rash of U.S. campus disorders during the first quarter of the 1968-69 academic year.

Protests involving violence have been staged against campus recruiting by industry, government agencies and the U.S. armed forces.

Negro students in many schools have clashed with police or college officials in demonstrations for recognition of their rights and a larger share of enrollments.

In New York, grade and high school boys and girls invaded the subway system and damaged equipment because the board of education decreed a longer school day to make up time lost in a teachers strike.

Uniformed ROTC students were formed into guard patrols at Kansas State University after a fire described by the authorities as arson burned down a gymnasium.

At California's College of San Mateo a force of 350 police turned out to keep order in the wake of a rampage by 150 students, most of them Negroes, which left 12 persons injured and $5,000 damage to property.

Officials of San Francisco State College closed down the school early for the Christmas-New Year holidays after days of turmoil involving demands by teachers and students for more autonomy.

Two score Negro students of Washington University in St.

Louis held possession of two campus buildings in an eight-day sit-in touched off by a claim that a Negro graduate student was roughed up by four campus police officers.

At Ohio's Kent State University 300 Negro students boycotted classes for four days after a rowdy demonstration against recruiters from the Oakland, Calif., police department. About 60 black students of Akron State University took part in a sympathy strike.

A student group of 300 opposed to campus recruitment by defense industries and government agencies carried out seven weeks of demonstrations at the University of Connecticut. The state police finally read the riot act to the demonstrators and arrested 67.

At Brown University in Rhode Island 40 Negro students stayed away from classes four days, demanding increased financial aid for blacks and a higher enrollment quota. The school agreed to raise the number of student body places reserved for Negro males by 5.6 per cent next year and to set aside 11 percent more places for Negro girls at Pembroke, a sister school.

Three buildings at predominantly Negro Lemoyne-Owen College in Memphis, Tenn., were seized and held for two days by 50 students and outside militants following a campus membership campaign by black power groups.

The school year opened inauspiciously at the University of Illinois, where 240 students protesting alleged housing discrimination against Negro enrollees by seizing the Student Union building.

The militants have been demanding an increase of 500 in the number of Negro enrollments next semester. School authorities said budget limitations made this impossible.

People In The News

CAMBRIDGE, England (AP) — Frank Clarke, the garbage collector whose early morning singing on his rounds at Cambridge University disturbed the sleep of Prince Charles, says all has been forgiven.

The 20-year-old prince complained in a student newspaper nine months ago that Clarke's dawn rendering of "Oh Come All Ye Faithful" woke him up. Clarke became something of a celebrity and made a record called "Why Don't They Buy Rubber Dustbins?"

Recently the two met again when Clarke's garbage truck blocked a road as Charles was cycling to his studies.

"He said he liked the copy of the record I sent him," Clarke said. "Then he was good enough to tell me that what really woke him was the noise of my truck and not my singing."

"All has been forgiven. He's a real gent."

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. (AP) — Santa Claus in his fur-trimmed red suit and white beard raised his hand and was sworn into the U.S. Marine Corps.

"Don't worry kids," said Navy Cmdr. Elmer Huber, head of the Armed Forces Examining and Entrance Station, "Santa is ordered to stick around here to get all his presents delivered."

Santa—in this case Ronnie Ogden, 19—then went back Monday to his Christmas job at a Jacksonville department store, with orders to report to the Marine training base at Parris Island, S. C., Jan. 20.

WASHINGTON (AP) — William E. Simkin, a soft-spoken Quaker who in the past eight years was a key figure in resolving some of the nation's crucial labor disputes, is resigning to direct an arbitration panel for the steel industry.

As director of the Federal Mediation and Conciliation Service, Simkin was usually the first federal official to step into disputes. He helped to mediate settlements in the steel, trucking, telephone, copper, aerospace and aluminum industries.

Simkin's new job, announced Monday by spokesmen for the steel industry and the AFL-CIO United Steelworkers Union, will be chairman of a three-man panel dealing with possible disputes arising from a new incentive pay system for steelworkers.

LONDON (AP) — Princess Anne, wearing an upswipe hairdo and brown velvet cloak, stole the show at a film premiere Monday night.

Her parents, Queen Elizabeth II and Prince Philip, and her brother, Prince Charles, were along too, but it was the 18-year-old princess in her stunning cloak who made the front pages.

Council stating that the city would withdraw from the agency Feb. 28, 1969. No official word had been received from the County Court, Adams said, but added that it was his understanding that "they would go along with the City Council."

Ralph Lee, president of the Pettis County board of MMCAC, said, "I still have hopes that Pettis County will reconsider," adding that a meeting between the county board and local government officials had been set for tonight to discuss the issue further.

Should the city and county remain in the program, anti-poverty efforts would continue in Pettis County even if MMCAC moves to Lincoln, it was stressed. But if the City Council and County Court stick to their decision to "opt out," the programs would grind to a halt.

Should Pettis County drop out, regional OEO plans would envision bringing Henry County into MMCAC, according to Adams.

MMCAC officials said that the Head Start and Neighborhood Youth Corps programs would not be continued here under local sponsors, such as the school board or other agencies, since OEO insists on final control over the programs, even though the Youth Corps is "funded out" to the Labor Department by the OEO. City and county officials had indicated they wished to retain these two programs under local sponsorship when they voted to opt out.

on the last allied compromise offer to the Communists last week. The allies proposed a table shaped like a divided doughnut, but the North Vietnamese, who had suggested an undivided round table, have not accepted the allied design.

The South Vietnamese delegation said it "cannot diverge from the formula of a two-sided conference," members of the delegation said.

The new chief of the Viet Cong delegation, Tran Bui Kiem, censured both the United States and South Vietnam equally upon his arrival from Hanoi Monday. Preparations for the meeting are "being dragged out by the delaying tactics of the United States and the Saigon administration," he told 300 cheering newcomers at the airport. Kiem is considered the foreign minister of the Viet Cong's National Liberation Front.

The shape of the table at which the negotiators will sit is the focal issue in the quarrel over arrangements for the conference because the shape will symbolize the status of the NLF at the talks.

Fire Dept. Ends Probe Of a Blaze

According to Fire Chief Emmett Vaughn, the fire which destroyed the Downtowner Cafe apparently started in the basement area of the building near a rest room area, spreading west through a false ceiling and finally reaching the upper floors of the building.

Some compressors were found in the basement but Vaughn said they were intact and there was no reason to suspect them as the cause of the blaze.

Vaughn said Wednesday that the fire department's investigation is now closed.

installation and some new decorations, such as the parking meter stand decorations, and there is a little left over to begin working on next year's decorations.

Utility pole decorations were spread throughout the downtown area, but the parking meter decorations were reserved for those businesses who paid their allotted share of the cost.

"We need to begin work now on next year's project. We need some $1,500 per year for capital improvements to bring the decorations up to acceptable standards and keep them that way," Callis said.

Callis and Mehl agreed that if all of the downtown businessmen paid their fair share each year, the assessments could be lowered considerably.

One businessman noted that if his firm must continue to pay more than its share for the overall decoration project, the firm might as well spend the money to decorate its own building. Others feel the same way.

Sedalia just could end up with no street decorations at all.

Santa Needs Jumbo Jet for Deliveries

By JOY STILLEY
NEW YORK (AP) — Santa had better give up any idea of making his rounds by sleigh this year. He'll need a jumbo jet to tote all the king-size presents children and adults alike are putting on their lists.

After all, how can you stuff a sauna bath into even the largest pack? And that's exactly what one of the nation's most exclusive department stores is featuring as the gift for the family who has everything but.

For the kids presents are coming in the large uneconomical size—like kitchen sets with sink, refrigerator and stove that are almost as big as mom's. For the household that has no skeleton in its closet there's one being offered in the form of the bone structures of a prehistoric monster. The set of plastic bones fit together into a 6-foot Tyrannosaurus.

This holiday season the presents don't really have to be big to be exciting, though. Possibly you can think of a friend who doesn't yet have a walking salt shaker. You just wind it up and off it scoots across the table.

The perfect choice to make that tiger in your family purr is the Tiger Paws slipper socks. They're orange with bold black stripes and authentic-looking claws made of felt.

The family pup can get in the spirit of the season too. Dress him in the doggie Santa suit offered by a mail order house—a red and white coat and hat, and there's even a beard. You'll have to supply the stump of a pipe though and teach him to bark "ho, ho, ho."

Size a problem? Not for this

CDC Flooded With Calls About the Flu

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — "It's like trying to add apples, elephants and camels."

This was the word from a harassed official of the National Communicable Disease Center which has been deluged with calls from persons worried about Hong Kong flu.

"Some people have colds and some people have something else and it's all being called Hong Kong flu," said George Stenhouse, public information chief of NCDC.

"We're getting calls from mothers with questions they should be asking their doctors," Stenhouse said Monday. "We try to assure them that it (the flu virus) is not a strange and exotic disease and tell them to call their doctor."

But still the calls keep pouring in. "We've got four men answering calls in this office alone and the telephones have been busy all day," the official said.

Stenhouse said the calls aren't just coming from the Atlanta area. "The London Telegraph wants us to tell them how long it will be before the epidemic reaches London, England," he said.

The NCDC says the new flu virus won't reach its peak until at least the first of the year.

Elderly Couple Found Dead In Their KC Home

KANSAS CITY (AP)—A middle-aged letter carrier and his wife, their hands and feet bound by electrical tape and the woman gagged, were found shot to death in their modest two-bedroom home in southeast Kansas City Monday night.

They were identified as Herbert F. Gray, whose age was not immediately available, and his wife, Maurine Thelma, 55. Both had been shot in the head at close range.

Police said the couple apparently had been dead since Saturday night. The bodies were discovered about 9 p.m. Monday by the dead man's brother and sister, Ralph Gray, 65, and Mrs. Hazel Ramsey, who went to the home after postal officials informed them Herbert Gray had not reported for work Monday.

Officers said the one-story home had been ransacked and it appeared robbery was the motive. The Grays' automobile was found wrecked and deserted some distance from the home. Police theorized the killer or killers stole the car, then wrecked it and abandoned it.

Police said a television set and a phonograph were missing from the home.

Both of the victims were found in their night clothing. Gray was found in one bedroom, his wife in the other bedroom. There were signs of a struggle.

Stengel Doing Fine

GLENDAL, CALIF. (AP) — "I'm all right now," says Casey Stengel after being treated at Glendale Memorial Hospital for injuries suffered in a traffic accident. "I feel fairly good. I've just got a slight abrasion on my eye. But I really feel fine."

The 78-year-old former manager of the New York Yankees and Mets was injured Wednesday. Police said his and another car collided. The other driver, Elsie Rickey, 27, suffered knee injuries but was not hospitalized.

Stengel was released from the hospital Saturday.

Doctors quit smoking

CHICAGO — According to a recent survey, 52% of American doctors do not smoke. Many quit recently due, according to the Anti-Tobacco Center of America, to the conclusive evidence linking cigarettes and lung cancer.

Many doctors gave up smoking without straining their will power thanks to a new tablet which helps to progressively eliminate the need for nicotine and, as a result, the desire to smoke. Less than 2% of the 150,000 people who tried this tablet reported they still smoke!

Smokers interested in receiving information (free) about this new tablet are invited to contact directly the Anti-Tobacco Center of America, Dept. 393-D, 276 Park Avenue South, New York City, 10010.

Dear Friends,

How simple it is for us to turn up the fire and chase away the shadow of the world's despair. But we must not forget.

Karl Marx Said It

"The Russian bear is certainly capable of anything, so long as he knows the other animals he has to deal with to be capable of nothing."

This unflattering statement, which could have been made yesterday, appeared in a dispatch by the foreign correspondent of a New York newspaper on June 14, 1853. The name of the correspondent was Karl Marx.

Everyone has heard of Marx, but it is not generally known that for some 10 years in the 1850s and '60s he contributed articles to the New York Daily Tribune, perceptively analyzing the major political developments of the day. The articles have been collected for the first time in a book, "Karl Marx on Colonialism and Modernization," edited by Shlomo Avineri of the Hebrew University of Jerusalem and just published by Doubleday.

Although Marx was momentarily awaiting the collapse of capitalism in Western Europe and the arrival of the next stage — socialism — his dispatches are remarkably free of dogma. They cover topics ranging from the Crimean War to the future of British rule in India to the collapse of the Chinese empire under the impact of the West to big-power machinations in the Middle East.

It is his comments on Russia, however, that most interest the modern reader. On April 12, 1853, for example, he wrote:

"Russia is decidedly a conquering nation, and was so for a century, until the great movement of 1789 called into potent activity an antagonist of formidable nature. We mean the European Revolution, the explosive force of democratic ideas and man's native thirst for freedom. Since the epoch there have been in reality but two powers on the continent of Europe — Russia and Absolutism, the Revolution and Democracy.

"For the moment the Revolution seems to be suppressed, but it lives and is feared as deeply as ever."

Marx was writing, of course, about the Russia of the czars, but one wonders what changes, if any, the patron saint of communism would make today were he reporting on recent events in Czechoslovakia.

One is also reminded of that oft-used but perennially serviceable French saying: "The more things change, the more they remain the same."

Marx would likely agree.

Not Merry for Mailmen

And now a good word for the mailman.

Estimates are that some 10 billion pieces of Christmas mail will have been delivered on time and reasonably intact by the overburdened couriers by the time the holiday season comes to its merciful end. That is as much mail as a major country such as France moves in an entire year. Put another way, it is 50 gifts, cards and letters for every man, woman and toddler in the nation.

This may be the season to be merry for the rest of us, but for the mailman it's a month of the miseries.

THE FAMILY LAWYER

"Don't Worry . . . I'm Insured"

Suppose a neighbor's child, playing in your back yard, falls from a swing and suffers serious injury. Later, when you are talking with his parents, you may offer a few consoling words: "Don't worry . . . I'm insured." But are you really? Under the victim against your own insurance company—perhaps out of sympathy for the victim, perhaps on the theory that "the insurance company can afford it."

But whatever your inclination, you have no right to weight the scales against the company, just to help the victim collect. On the contrary, you are obliged by the "cooperation clause" in your policy to give the company all reasonable cooperation in its defense against the claim.

This means you must sign papers, make court appearances, and do whatever else is necessary to help the company legitimately make its case.

And, of course, you must tell the truth.

In one case, a man named in a damage claim told his insurance company that he was in no way to blame for the accident. But just before the trial, he suddenly reversed his story, quite obviously to help the victim collect.

The court accordingly ruled that the man had violated the cooperation clause, thereby releasing the insurance company from its obligation.

"The insured must tell his insurer the complete truth concerning the accident," said the court, "and he must stick to this truthful version throughout the proceedings. He must not blow hot and cold to suit his personal convenience."

popular Comprehensive Personal Liability policy, you are covered only in case you are legally liable. If this was a pure accident, in no way your fault, you are not legally liable—and the insurance company has no obligation to pay off.

True, you may have a "medical payments" clause in your policy which applies even if you are not legally liable. But the medical payments coverage is usually modest, not much help in case of serious injury.

In these circumstances, you might be tempted to side with the injured

No Scum on Yule Tree

Love, hope and charity—this is the season for it. Of course, it may be a bit difficult this year. We must face up to our Mayor Daleys. Then, there are, just for starters, starvation, disease and crime. Or, if you really want to test your ability to be charitable, there is always Eldridge Cleaver.

Cleaver, for those who want to indulge their capacity for tolerance, is high in the ranks of the Black Panthers. He is, by his own admission in his book, "Soul on Ice," a rapist. An ex-convict, he was a presidential candidate who actually drew some votes in November.

The Black Panthers, for those who still have charitable inclinations, publish a journal that, among other things, printed a cartoon of Robert Kennedy after his assassination depicting him as a dead pig.

I know the mail will bring me curt little notes saying, "Here it was the time of holly berries and mellow feelings and you are talking bitter words." At least one person will write that he opened his newspaper hoping to find a bit of nostalgia and he sure wishes I'd forget the ugly stuff.

I'll answer those letters before I get them. I am an eternal optimist. I'm the kind who has a flat tire and says, "Well, for awhile I got a new slant on life." But, while I am also a believer in Christmas cheer, I do believe this is a time to sort out our thoughts.

Personally, I am not one for hopelessness and despair. And, I am not going to react to the turmoil in my country by curling up in a damp little ball of fear.

As we have undergone a real revolution in this past decade, we should have expected that when good, honest changes boiled up, some garbage would come to the surface. All I suggest is that we recognize scum for what it is, and not be afraid of being labeled "intolerant" when we tell it as we see it.

Why do some keep trying to justify the Black Panthers or, at the other extreme, the American Nazi Party? Why do some see them as bold heroes when they really are loud-mouthed misfits?

As for understanding these rejects of society, well, we understand them all right. They have complete contempt for everybody who will not join them in thumbing noses at such sentimentalities as family and home and citizenship.

And so, during this gentle season, I'll not debase myself. I'll not be offering my love to those who see life as an obscenity.

Letter to the Editor

JAMES L. RIPLEY (3804 Pizzaro Road, Jacksonville, Fla.) — I read with almost utter disbelief, the accounts of the lack of public response to the pending discontinuance of Missouri Pacific passenger train service in and out of Sedalia.

I feel that a certain "sense of direction" should be provided by certain "neutral" public officials. These same public officials have no neutrality when it comes to spending the city taxpayers' money on the local airport or other air transit schemes. If ours is supposed to be a private enterprise system, why can't the airlines support themselves and get off the public dole?

I have relied many times, in the past, on Missouri Pacific passenger service into Sedalia, to visit my mother and other relatives living there. Many of us aren't in the so-called Jet set with expense accounts or simply can't afford extensive air travel. If public monies are to be spent on the airlines, why can't some be applied to improving something you already have?

The Missouri Pacific offers the last rail passenger link between St. Louis and Kansas City as well as the State Capitol. With help, this could be expanded into a rapid transit corridor type system, serving all communities along the route. Once these trains are gone, the time will no doubt come when many of you will wish they were still running.

We all can't afford air travel. Bus travel is tedious, dirty and uncomfortable. We all can't cram our cars on U.S. 50 or Interstate 70. Public acceptance of rail transit would be renewed if modern fast trains were provided making good connections at St. Louis and Kansas City. Some tax assistance would be required though. The same type that helped promote the airlines and the interstate highway system.

Taxpayers Ask IRS

Q — How long do I have to hold stock before I can treat profits made on it as a long-term capital gain?

A — The profits on the sale of stock or other capital assets held more than six months are treated as long-term capital gains.

Q — Can I deduct fees paid to an employment agency?

A — Yes, fees paid for obtaining employment are deductible if you itemize your expenses.

Q — I pay someone to look after my children until I get home from work. Can I deduct this expense?

A — Child care expenses may be deducted when certain conditions are met. Be sure to check the instructions that come with the tax forms. They explain what you have to do to qualify for this deduction.

Q — I have a selling job where I report to the office at the beginning and end of the day. My boss doesn't pay my driving expenses. Can I deduct them on my tax return?

A — If you have to use your car on business then the costs can be deducted. However, the costs of getting to and from your job are personal and not deductible.

You may deduct the actual expense including depreciation, or if you prefer, a standard rate of 10 cents a mile for the first 15,000 miles of business use and 7 cents a mile thereafter. Related parking fees and tolls may be deducted in addition to the standard mileage rate.

Washington Merry-Go-Round

Public Voice in Thruway Decisions

By DREW PEARSON AND JACK ANDERSON

WASHINGTON — Secretary of Transportation Alan Boyd, a one-time Florida cracker who has become a defender of Negro ghetto residents, is leaving an important precedent for his successor, Gov. John Volpe of Massachusetts, the big builder.

Secretary Boyd is holding hearings this week which will set a definite policy of giving the public the right to get in on the ground floor regarding the routing of future thruways.

In the past, thruways have frequently been routed by state and federal engineers, and only after the plan was firmly fixed was the public consulted regarding the route. This meant that those whose residences and businesses would be torn up by the bulldozers had almost nothing to say about it.

Secretary Boyd has decreed that this is wrong, that there should be two hearings, as follows:

1. Early, before the route is definitely fixed and when the public can express its pros and cons;
2. After the engineers, considering public protests, have tentatively fixed the route.

This week the highway lobby, made up of tire, oil and gas and concrete interests, plus the automobile manufacturers association, is testifying before Boyd's Transportation Department against the two-step highway hearing rule.

—Disrupting People—

The lobby, however, is not likely to change Boyd. He has watched the local battle in the District of Columbia where people rebelled against thruways disrupting their homes and the beauty of the Potomac. They were backed recently by the U.S. Court of Appeals which ruled that the people had a right to be heard before a final decision was made.

The District of Columbia controversy is certain to go to Congress where Rep. William Natcher of Kentucky has mysteriously become the great friend of the highway lobby — even to the point of threatening to ban a subway for the nation's capital unless it agrees to thruways. A lot of people are very curious as to why Natcher has become the one-man champion of the highway lobby.

In Nashville, Tenn., also, there's been a revolt against highways which will put Negro businesses on dead-end streets at the very same time that the federal government is trying to promote black capitalism. A two-step hearing system might have avoided this.

New Secretary of Transportation John Volpe has been both an efficient governor of Massachusetts and an efficient highway builder. The John A. Volpe Construction Company is one of the biggest in the nation. But the latter has put Volpe close to the concrete lobby. It will be interesting to see how he lines up regarding thruways.

Astronaut Hopes For A 'First'

By JIM STROTHMAN
AP Aerospace Writer
CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — With America apparently given the chance to beat Russian cosmonauts around the moon, an Apollo 8 astronaut says he has "a great deal of hope" his flight scores that space first at Christmastime.

"I certainly don't think we will lose any of the value of it if we perhaps don't do it first, but I would be less than candid if I said that I would like to be second in doing it," said Air Force Col. Frank Borman, Apollo 8 commander.

"I think it's a healthy competition," however, Borman said in a recent interview. "I think that competition is healthy in any endeavor, whether it's college football or business or national politics."

"The feeling that they're all bad and we're all good — I don't look at it that way at all. I think what we've done is this program has been well thought out and aided immensely by the Russian progress, to be perfectly frank," the astronaut observed.

Unless the Soviet Union pulls a surprise, Borman and his two copilots — Navy Capt. James Lovell Jr. and Air Force Maj. William A. Anders — could become the first men to fly around the moon.

The trio are scheduled to blast off Saturday at 7:51 a.m. EST to begin a six-day mission that will take them around the moon 10 times Christmas Eve and Christmas Day.

Farm Home Is Destroyed By a Blaze

CONCORDIA — Fire totally destroyed the Erwin Lubbert farm, five miles southwest of here, Monday.

The Concordia Fire Department, summoned to the scene of the blaze, was unable to extinguish the fire before the house and virtually all the Lubberts' clothes and home furnishings were destroyed.

In their effort to extinguish the fire, firemen emptied both the fire truck water supply and the farm well.

The Lubberts, Mr. and Mrs. Lubbert and their three daughters, ages 11, 14 and 16, have received two offers of homes they might use. Authorities have indicated an effort is being made to obtain clothes for the family, and that any help received will be appreciated.

The Other Side

While the inaugural stands and platforms are being erected on the east side of the U.S. Capitol to the tune of a quarter of a million dollars or so, over on the west side the walls are quietly crumbling down. Strong beams have been shoring up the cracked, disintegrating and bulging sandstone walls of the central portion since 1965. Capitol architect J. George Stewart has been hoping to get the go-ahead for a $30-million or so project to extend the now-uneven west front as much as 88 feet by building new marble walls matching the rest of the building.

Mayor Uses Time Clock

DEARBORN, Mich. (AP) — Mayor Orville Hubbard installed a time clock outside his office several weeks ago. Then he started punching in and punching out.

Soon others were using the clock until now more than 20 of Hubbard's aides punch in and punch out each day. And three of the punchers make more than $20,000 a year.

Hubbard said he thought the idea might work to his staff's advantage in administering the Detroit suburb of 115,000.

"I didn't ask them what they thought about it," Hubbard said in an interview. "I didn't even mention it to them. I still haven't, but they're using it, all right."

Maybe it's because of the example set by the boss. Most of the entries on his card show the mayor arriving before 8 a.m. and leaving generally around 10 p.m.

Roadrunners Take Sixth In a Row

Dick Phillips, a 6-3 freshman forward, pulled the fat out of the fire twice for the State Fair Community College Roadrunners Monday night, sneaking the locals past St. Paul's Junior College Blue Jays 58-57 in an error-heavy basketball encounter at the fairgrounds here.

This is the sixth straight Roadrunner victory.

Phillips, who scored 22 points against Nazarene Bible College last Friday, came through for the Roadrunners when the going was heaviest and the odds the worst. A split second before the half-time buzzer, Phillips cut loose from half-court and put Sedalia ahead 36-35 to end a nerve-rattling first half of action.

If anything, the Sedalians were far from their best Monday, and the victory belongs equally to Lady Luck. The Jays, using a full court press and zone defense, rattled the locals, causing bad passes and forcing the Roadrunners into fouling situations.

From tip-off to half-time buzzer, it was a see-saw, action-packed and aggressive game which left Sedalia looking far from its best.

Things didn't change much in the second half, except that Sedalia came out like a different team. Applying their own press and zone, the Roadrunners managed to initiate some of their own control over the game.

But at no point did SFCC force a lead that could have been called comfortable. The best the locals could do was a 55-51 margin with four minutes, 38 seconds left in the final half.

And St. Paul's of Concordia chewed away at that until the Jays had it all tied up with 44 seconds left.

Up until then, Sedalia had its share of bad breaks and errors, but Lady Luck smiled again when, with seven seconds remaining in the game, St. Paul's Ben Freudenberg, an aggressive, hard-driving 5-11 freshman, fouled Phillips, giving the Sedalian a two-shot chance from the free-throw line.

With the score tied and the tension at its peak, Phillips put his first charity toss through the net to give Sedalia a narrow one-point victory. His second shot bounced wild.

Grey Laird, a freshman forward for Sedalia, took game scoring honors with 15 tallies on six field goals and three free throws. David Bratcher, 6-6 center, tallied 13 and Phillips was third in line with ten points.

Top gun for Concordia was Dave Brinkman, a lanky 6-3 sophomore who put away 14 points for the Jays. Terry Herzberg, 6-2, and Wayne Knolhoff, also 6-2, followed with 13 points each.

Both teams were evenly matched in field goals, but Sedalia's one extra charity toss put the game on ice — thin though it was.

With the sixth victory history, Sedalia will travel to Whiteman AFB this Thursday for a repeat contest with the Missilers. Sedalia beat the Air Force team by four points in their first meeting, but Coach Fred Wehking sees a tougher game ahead.

"They've got some good talent and we're playing on their court. They could be tough," he said.

Monday's box score:

Smith-Cotton Teams Split With Marshall

By Kevin West

The Smith-Cotton eighth and ninth grade "A" teams, coached by Max Fields and Wes Sanders, respectively, split with the Marshall Owls Monday evening, as the eighth grade dropped their contest 24-23 and the Frosh victimized the Owls, 39-34.

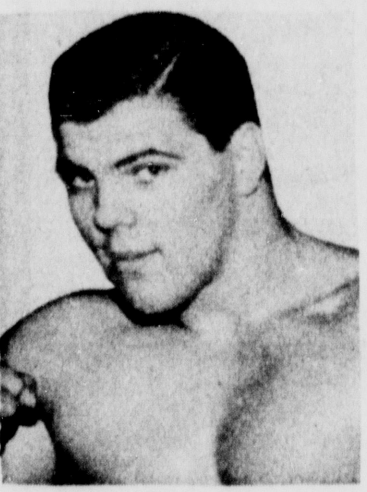

The eighth graders, coming from a seven-point deficit in the first half of play, rallied to within one point of the Owls in the last 52 seconds of the game.

Marshall took possession with 23 seconds to go and held out until the final buzzer, defeating the Bengals. High point man for S-C was Kim Anderson, with 14 points. For the Owls Lunch was top man with 14 also.

Taking command from the beginning of the game, the Bengal Frosh remained in the lead throughout the contest. Concern arose however when the out-of-towners closed the gap to one point at the end of the third quarter. But the aggressive Tiger defense and offense thwarted all Owl hopes as the Bengals went on to win it 39-34.

High point man for the Tigers was Herzberg, who tallied 18 big points for the Tiger cause. High point honors for Marshall went to Harrison and Stoll, who both scored eight points.

Martin, Etchison Get Another Shot at Title

Terry Martin

Fast-stepping Tommy Martin and veteran Ronnie Etchison will try again tonight to lift the North American tag team wrestling title from hard-hitting Dusty Rhodes and Tornado Murdock.

The title go will headline a four-match card featuring both heavyweights and girl grapplers. Starting time is 8:15.

For the championship test, the time limit and disqualification rule have been waived at the challengers' request. They felt they were denied the title last week when Murdock was disqualified for throwing Martin over the top rope.

Etchison and Martin felt the odds were in their favor until Murdock's move and maintained he purposely threw

Stan Moose

Martin over the strand to force the disqualification.

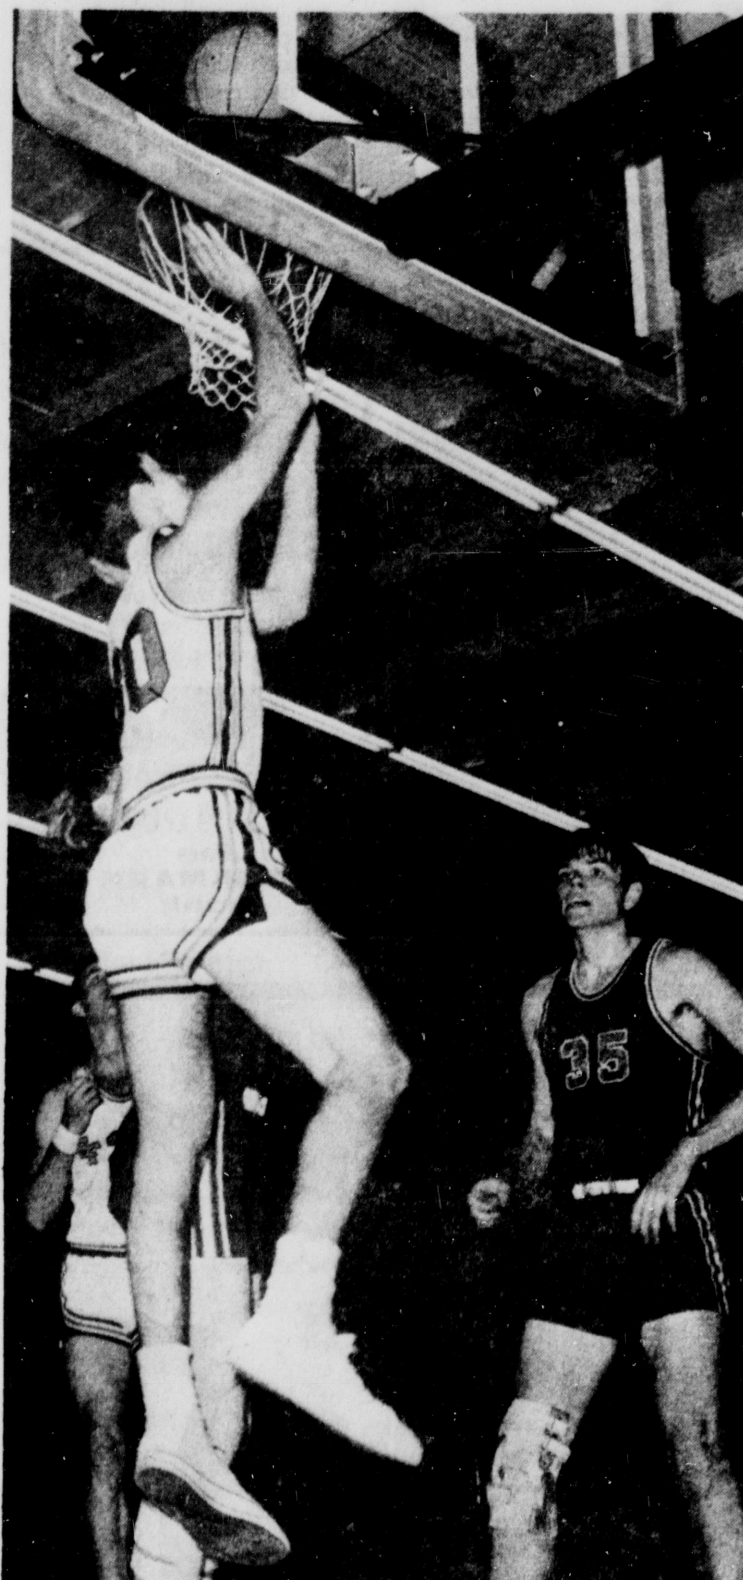

With the usual restrictions lifted, a lively pace is expected.

A death match also is scheduled tonight, with musclemen Earl Maynard and Bob Brown tangling in that gruelling event. Action will continue until one man can no longer answer the bell. Falls won't count.

Scheduled as the special event is a mixed tag team test. Jean Antone will pool talents with Terry Martin and together they'll oppose towering Stan Moose and Betty Niccoli.

The opener will send Terry Martin against Moose.

Tonight's show will be the last of the year. No action is planned Christmas eve. After tonight, wrestling will resume on Wednesday night, Jan. 1.

Gibson, Marichal Clean Up Honors

CINCINNATI (AP) — Bob Gibson of the St. Louis Cardinals and Juan Marichal of the San Francisco Giants cleaned up most of the pitching honors in the National League during 1968, official averages showed today.

Steve Blass of the Pittsburgh Pirates took the only other major title. His 18-6 record gave him a .750 winning percentage, tops in the league.

Gibson, who had a 2-1 record in the Cards' losing effort in the World Series with the Detroit Tigers, posted a 1.12 earned run average in 34 games—the lowest in the history of the league. The previous record of 1.22 was by Grover Cleveland Alexander of the Philadelphia Phils in 1915.

In addition, Gibson had a 15-game winning streak which stretched from June 2 to Aug.

19. Gibson had a 22-9 won-lost record for a percentage of .710. He allowed only 11 home runs in 305 innings. He walked only 62 and those included six intentional walks.

Marichal, finishing with 26 - 9 and a .743 percentage, won the most games. The 30 games he completed also topped the league and his 326 innings pitched were high. However, he gave up the most hits—295.

Ferguson Jenkins of the Chicago Cubs made the most starts, 40, and he and teammate Bill Hands each yielded 26 home runs, tops in the dubious gopher ball category.

Claude Osteen of the Los Angeles Dodgers and Ray Sadecki of the Giants lost the most games—18 each—as they each posted 12-18 marks.

Smith-Cotton Will Face California

The Smith-Cotton Tiger varsity cagers journey to California this Tuesday night to do battle with the Pintos. The "B" game starts at 7:15, and the varsity contest follows.

According to head Bengal coach Paul Schwartz, the Pintos are quick and aggressive on defense this year, as they have been in the past. Their rebounding is led by Allen Meyer, whose strength and jumping ability should create some problems for the Tigers. Offensively they are led by Meyers inside and Mike Robertson and Seth Hackney outside.

The Black and Gold, on a two game winning streak, will probably start Allan Browder or Jim Lewis at one forward and Dave Nash at the other. Skip Tornquist will play center and Bill Woolery and Bob Logan will hold down the guard positions.

Coach Schwartz stated, "The progress of Sedalia's team performance has been what we expected and we look for an even improved performance again Tuesday, a necessity if we are to keep our victory string going." The Tigers defeated the Knob Noster Panthers 58 to 36 last Friday night.

The Pinto probable starters include Doug Berry, 6'1" forward; Seth Hackney, 6'11" forward; Allen Meyer, 6'3" center; Dennis Althoff, 5'10" guard; and Mike Robertson, 6'1" guard.

Cup Challenge Said Complete Financial Flop

ADELAIDE, Australia (AP) — The 57th Davis Cup Challenge Round between the United States and Australia starting here the day after Christmas Day looms as a complete financial flop and, as a result, might be the last played under the present amateur format.

Cup competition probably will have to open to revive worldwide interest. A move in that direction will be made this weekend in a meeting of the big four tennis powers—the United States, Australia, France and England.

A major blow to Australian sponsors came today with the announcement that the Australian oil firm which backed television coverage in the past was withdrawing from the picture. No television sponsor is available and that is an automatic loss of $12,000.

"It shows how low the tennis image has dropped in Australia," moaned Neville Vickers, Challenge Round chairman. Season ticket sales for the three-day event December 26-28 went on sale here Monday, and reaction at best was tepid.

Only half of the 7,000 seats were sold for the Memorial Courts, where Arthur Ashe and company will attempt to bring the cup back to America. The Americans are overwhelmingly favored over the Australian team depleted by pro raids.

The tennis bloom has gone in Australia which once looked upon the game as a sort of religion.

The Queensland Championships in Brisbane last week, which provided a Davis Cup preview between top U.S. and Australian players, drew between 300 and 600 daily. In past years as many as 10,000 have paid to witness practice sessions alone.

Most observers blame the collapse on the fact the Australians have won the Cup 15 of the last 18 times and competition has become boring. Others say the move to the pro game is the reason. Fans want only to see the best—the pros.

Jets Place Eight Men On All-Stars

NEW YORK (AP) — The Eastern champion New York Jets placed eight men, including quarterback Joe Namath and receivers George Sauer and Don Maynard, on the Eastern team today for the American Football League All-Star game Jan. 19.

The players were selected in a poll of coaches. The remaining 11 will be picked by the team's coach, who will be named later this week. The game will be played in Jacksonville, Fla.

Joining Namath, Maynard and Sauer from the Jets are offensive tackle Winston Hill, offensive guard Dave Herman, kicker Jim Turner, and defensive ends Gerry Philbin and Verlon Biggs.

Houston placed seven players on the team, but the other three clubs had a total of only eight.

The rest of the offensive team is tackle Glen Ray Hines, Houston; guard Billy Shaw, Buffalo; center Jim Morris, Boston; tight end Alvin Reed, Houston, and running backs Hoyle Granger, Houston, and Jim Kiick, Miami. Kiick is the only rookie on the team.

The defense also has tackles Jim Dunaway, Buffalo, and Houston Antwine, Boston; Linebackers George Webster and Garland Boyette, Houston, and Mike Stratton, Buffalo; cornerbacks Miller Farr, Houston, and George Byrd, Buffalo, and safeties Ken Houston, Houston, and George Saimes, Buffalo.

PITCHING PAYS OFF

DENVER (AP) Playing San Diego this season, the Denver Bears did something they've never before accomplished in 14 years of Triple-A baseball. They swept a four-game series and used only four pitchers in the process.

Three Maintain Big 8 Prestige

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Kansas, Colorado and Nebraska maintained the Big Eight Conference's prestige in inter-sectional basketball games Monday night, while Kansas State and Iowa State found their troubles compounded.

The 11th-ranked Jayhawks posted victory No. 6 in seven starts, flashing to big early leads and romping to a 72-59 triumph over previously unbeaten Murray, Ky., State.

Colorado kept up its early-season winning ways with an impressive 79-72 win over fifth-ranked New Mexico for a 7-1 record. It was New Mexico's first loss.

Nebraska throttled Michigan State, 73-59, to run its record to 5-1.

Not so fortunate were the Wildcats and Cyclones. Kansas State battled 20th-ranked Houston off its feet before bowing 87-84 in overtime at Houston, while Iowa State fell prey to small-college power Northern Illinois, 78-65, on the road.

Kansas State now is 2-4, while Iowa State sustained its second straight defeat after reeling off five straight wins.

No games are scheduled for Big Eight teams tonight, but Oklahoma State plays at Pan American and Tulane at Missouri Wednesday.

The 3-2 reading Monday night left the Big Eight with a 34-16 mark in inter-sectional play so far this season.

Rugged Night For Top Ten

By HERSCHEL NISSENSEN, Associated Press Sports Writer
It was a rugged night for the nation's Top Ten college basketball teams Monday.

Ninth-ranked St. Bonaventure suffered its first loss of the season in a 71-68 decision to No. 13 Detroit.

The Bonnies' Bob Lanier outscored Olympic star Spencer Haywood 19-15, but Haywood, a 6-foot-8 sophomore, did yeoman work off the boards and also led a tight defense that forced the 6-11 Lanier outside.

Elsewhere, it was a rugged night for Top Ten teams in The Associated Press' weekly college basketball poll.

Second-ranked North Carolina overcame an early scare and crushed Clemson 90-69. But No. 5 New Mexico lost to Colorado 79-72 and sixth-ranked Cincinnati took an 83-68 pasting from Southern California. Seventh-ranked Notre Dame almost blew a 10-point lead before turning back Minnesota 69-65. The Second Ten teams didn't have it much easier. No. 11 Kansas downed Murray State 72-59 but 14th-ranked New Mexico State squeaked by Hardin-Simmons 74-68; Ohio State, No. 17, edged Washington State 75-74; Western Kentucky, ranked 18th, got by Austin Peay 75-73; No. 19 Louisville nipped Florida 79-78 and 20th-ranked Houston went into overtime before topping Kansas State 87-84.

Detroit, which has zoomed into national prominence since Haywood's Olympic heroics, won its first major test after six breathers even though Haywood was held to his lowest point total. He had been averaging 35 points a game.

North Carolina, unbeaten in five starts, roared back from a 28-22 deficit to whip Clemson, despite the outside shooting of the losers' Butch Zatezalo, who scored 32 points. Dick Grubar had 20 for the Tar Heels, who have a key contest tonight against Virginia.

Ron Smith, a 7-2 sophomore, paced Colorado past New Mexico. He scored 18 points, pulled down 13 rebounds and sent blocked shots back at the stunned Lobos faster than they went up. Cliff Meely had 26 points to lead the Colorado attack.

MU Team To Leave Thursday

COLUMBIA, Dec. 16 (Special) — Missouri's official party, including 65 players, will depart Thursday from Columbia for a week of training in Daytona Beach, Fla., ahead of a Dec. 28 Gator Bowl engagement with Alabama.

The Show-Me contingent will fly to Florida in a chartered 727 jet (Braniff) — leaving Columbia at 12:45 p.m., and arriving in Daytona Beach at 4 p.m. Team headquarters will be at the Voyager motel until Dec. 26—and at the Robert Meyer hotel in Jacksonville from Dec. 26-30.

Coach Dan Devine and his staff will hold squad workouts in Daytona's Memorial Stadium. The first practice on Dec. 20 will start at 1:30 p.m. — and be open to the public. It also will be the Tigers' official photo session for press, radio and television people in that area.

Tow workouts are on the agenda Dec. 21, 23 and 24; otherwise the squad will practice just once daily.

"I don't think our players really have begun to start thinking about Alabama yet," Devine said this week. "That comes into focus, and is part of the challenge, when we start practicing at the bowl site."

Of the Tigers' regular-season foes in 1968, Alabama most resembles Oklahoma—Devine intimated.

"Alabama may be a little tougher on defense," he elaborated, "but I'd hate to think they had a more powerful attack than ours Sooner."

Oklahoma over-ran Mizzou at Norman, 28-14, breaching the Bengal defense for 270 rushing yards. Missouri's Gator Bowl battle with Alabama will be the Tigers' first-ever grid match with the Crimson Tide—and third post-season appearance in Jacksonville. Coach Don Faurot's 1948 squad lost to Clemson, 24-23, and his 549 outfit bowed to Maryland, 20-7.

Chiefs Are Heading For Playoff Date

KANSAS CITY (AP) — The Kansas City Chiefs, headed for a playoff date next Sunday with the Oakland Raiders for the American Football League Western Division championship launched their 1969 season ticket drive Monday.

Vice President and General Manager Jack Steadman said the Chiefs' goal is 40,000 season tickets. The Chiefs had 37,087 season ticket holders this year, a club record and second highest in AFL history.

The Chiefs, meanwhile went back to practice Monday, with Coach Hank Stram concerned about the possibility of flu striking the team.

Unless illnesses strike, the Chiefs are expected to be at full strength for Sunday's playoff battle at Oakland—for the right to meet the New York Jets Dec. 29 for the AFL crown and a Super Bowl appearance.

Pair of Problems—Shears and Chrome

By POLLY CRAMER

Polly's Problem

DEAR POLLY—My pinkie shears are so stiff I can scarcely use them. I wish someone would tell me how I can loosen them. Also, I would like to know what others do to keep chrome chairs from marking up the kitchen floor.—MRS. M. D.

DEAR POLLY—After using cooking oil, I pour drippings into a teapot. This is such a help when the oil is needed again. It pours right from the spout without spilling, dripping or using greasy spoons. Some teapots have small perforations in the spout base which strain the oil as it is poured. Teapots are heat-resistant, easy to handle and there is no greasy mess. I leave mine right on the stove. It is an attractive addition to my kitchen color scheme.—MRS. W. H.

DEAR POLLY—When making jam or jelly, I fill a sherbet glass full of each kind. When I have company, I just remove the wax from the top and set the sherbet glass right on the table, where it looks very nice.—ALICE

DEAR POLLY—I hope this helps Renee remove the mustard stains from her tablecloth. Rub glycerin on the stain and then wash with detergent. This worked well on a white linen tablecloth and probably will work on the vinyl, too. Don't get scared when the yellow spot turns red from the glycerin. This will come out with the detergent.—EDITH

DEAR POLLY—When the foam head for my hair piece started chipping away from pin punctures, I repaired it with masking tape. I crisscrossed the tape over the punctured area and now the head stand holds my hair pieces firmly.—NORAH

Warfield Puts an End To Unsung Hero Talk

Paul Warfield

CLEVELAND—(NEA)—The pain lasted only 10 searing seconds. As Paul Warfield remembers it, three and a half years later, he was diving for this long pass in the second quarter of the game against the College All-Stars and landed jarringly on his left elbow.

The shock of the fall alone was enough to snap a bone. In that same instant, an eager collegian, Al Nelson (who now plays for the Philadelphia Eagles), came along and got entangled in Warfield's flailing legs. The total impact left Warfield with shattered fragments where the left clavicle (or collarbone) used to be. It also put him into a limbo from which he is just now emerging.

In 1964, Paul Warfield had come into the National Football League as the most exciting new receiver in a decade—Rookie of the Year, unanimous all-pro. In 1965, after his accident, he didn't put on a uniform until the 14th game of the season. And even for a couple of years after that you didn't hear much about Paul Warfield.

He played, and there was no criticism. But last year 33 receivers in the NFL caught more passes than Warfield. Always, there was the nagging impression that somehow the splintered collarbone, and the season he missed because of it, derailed his career.

No more. The tally of pass catches this year shows that the man who lines up on the left side wide for the Cleveland Browns has scored more touchdowns than any of his contemporaries, has already gained more yards than in his fabulous rookie season and is about to surpass his top figure for number of receptions.

Yet a couple of years ago, when Blanton Collier, the coach of the Browns, went down to neighboring Canton for a speech, he was confronted by an irate burgher who demanded, "You've got to get that Warfield kid out of your lineup. He's got no balance and can't stay on his feet."

When the Browns had drafted Warfield out of Ohio State, they weren't sure whether he'd be used on offense or defense. So Collier brought him up from Columbus one spring afternoon and started him out running pass patterns.

"Two was all I needed," says Collier, "to convince me he had too much talent to play anything but offense."

In high school, at Warren, Ohio, Paul had run 100 yards in 9.7 seconds and was also a champion broad jumper and hurdler. Surround that mobility with 190 sinewy pounds and a fine football intelligence, and you have something special. At least, too much for the average defensive back to handle.

The New York Giants tried to handle him ridiculously, man-to-man, with corner back Willie Williams supplying the single coverage, and Warfield, in the vernacular, ate him up. He caught six passes, a good afternoon's production, and could have caught triple that number if quarterback Bill Nelsen had thrown to him more.

"He is," says Frank Ryan, who used to throw the passes until supplanted by Nelsen, "the best receiver in the league."

The only residue of the 1965 injury is a lumpy protrusion in the area of the collarbone. Mentally, there are no scars, and Warfield insists there never were any.

"I took an anatomy course in college," he says, "so I knew that when you have a break, with the calcification of healing, it actually is stronger through the bone ossification."

So Paul Warfield throws himself recklessly into blocks, a chore most wide receivers shun, and glides blithely through enemy secondaries, re-established as one of the great receiving threats in the game.

"He has been one of the most underrated players in the league," says Collier, his coach.

Like his injury, that has become ancient history, too. (Newspaper Enterprise Assn.)

Elvin Hayes Widens NBA Scoring Lead

NEW YORK (AP) — Elvin Hayes, San Diego's sensational rookie, has widened his National Basketball Association scoring lead and moved into the Top Three in rebounding.

Hayes dropped in 127 points in four games last week for a 31-game total of 938 and a 125-point bulge over runner-up Bob Rule of Seattle, according to weekly NBA figures released today.

The 6-foot-9 Rocket's 27 rebounds against Milwaukee last Friday helped him in third position in the rebounding derby—behind pace-setter Wilt Chamberlain of Los Angeles and Boston player-coach Bill Russell.

Chamberlain has grabbed 637 rebounds in 30 games, Russell 566 in 27 and the Big E 553.

Hayes is averaging 30.3 points and 17.8 rebounds per start.

Chamberlain remains on top in field goal percentage with an accuracy mark of .598, followed by Cincinnati's Jerry Lucas, .559, and Detroit's Terry Dis-chinger, .530.

Adrian Smith and Oscar Robertson of Cincinnati are 1-2 in free throw accuracy with .862 and .856 percentages, respectively.

NEW YORK (AP) — The biggest defensive play of the last day of the National Football League season was made by Ray Nitschke of the Green Bay Packers, who intercepted a Jack Concannon pass in the final minutes to snuff out the Chicago Bears.

Nitschke's theft was the most dramatic of the day, earning him The Associated Press' nomination as the defensive player of the week in the NFL.

Green Bay took an apparently safe 28-10 lead into the final quarter with the Bears knowing they had to win to take the Central Division title. Long before the Bears' game was over, Minnesota was in the locker room in Philadelphia with a victory over the Eagles.

An inspired Bear rally closed the gap from 28-17, then to 28-20 and finally 28-27 in the closing minutes. The Bears had the ball on the Packer 43 on a first-and-10 situation before Concannon was thrown for a five-yard loss.

On fourth down, Concannon tried a desperation pass that was intercepted by Nitschke.

"We thought about attempting a field goal on that fourth down," said Bear Coach Jim Dooley, "but it would have been for 57 yards and that was too much to ask of Mac Percival against the wind."

Gene Howard, a New Orleans rookie defensive back earned a commendation for his nine tackles in the Saints' 24-14 win over Pittsburgh.

After the game, Roy Jefferson, top Pittsburgh receiver, walked over to the youngster from Langston U. (Oklahoma) and said, "That's the best job anybody has ever done against me. You're really going to be a great safety."

Willie Williams of the New York Giants picked off two passes against Dallas and, although the Giants bowed to the Cowboys 28-10, Willie wound up with 10 interceptions, tops in the league. Spider Lockhart also made a beautiful theft of a Craig Morton pass out of the hands of Lance Rentzel in the end zone.

The St. Louis defense clamped down on the Cleveland Browns Saturday as Bill Nelson completed only nine of 23 passes. Larry Wilson roamed far and wide for the Cards, who upset the Browns 27-16.

Florida Girl Jockey Applies for License

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — The Florida State Racing Commission was ordered Monday to make Barbara Jo Rubin the state's first girl jockey, or go to court to explain why she should not be licensed.

Circuit Court Judge Jack A. Falk scheduled a show cause hearing for Jan. 15 to let the commission explain its conduct on the application filed last Friday by Miss Rubin, an exercise girl at Tropical Park.

Two More Valley Teams Bite Dust

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Two of the Missouri Valley's five unbeaten teams—including sixth-ranked Cincinnati-bit the dust Monday night and a third narrowly escaped the ambush of a non-conference opponent.

Southern California cut down the Bearcats, who had won four straight, 83-68, at Los Angeles and Lamar Tech chopped down Tulsa, which had run up six in a row, 103-77.

Defending Valley champion Louisville avoided a similar fate when it held off Florida State for a 79-78 triumph—No. 6 for the Cardinals.

The 1-2 showing Monday night left the Valley with a 33-13 record against non-conference competition.

St. Louis plays at Wichita tonight in the second Missouri Valley game of the season, while North Texas State risks its perfect 6-0 record at Denver.

UCLans No. 1 In Press Poll

By HAL BOCK

Associated Press Sports Writer

There is a dissenter in the house. Someone has been lured away from the UCLA juggernaut to the Tar Heels of North Carolina.

The Uclans remained No. 1 in The Associated Press poll of the top 20 collegiate basketball teams Monday, but they were not a unanimous choice. UCLA polled 29 first place ballots of the 30 cast, with the other one going to second-ranked North Carolina.

UCLA accumulated 598 points on the basis of 20 points for a first place vote, 18 for second, 16 for third, etc. North Carolina had 542 points for a healthy hold on the No. 2 spot over Davidson, which had 427.

The first eight places in the rankings were unchanged, with Kentucky in fourth place, New Mexico No. 5, Cincinnati sixth, Notre Dame seventh and Villanova No. 8.

St. Bonaventure moved up to ninth place and Santa Clara soared from 16th into the top 10 on the basis of victories last week over highly-regarded Houston and San Francisco. The Broncos are 5-0.

The loss to Santa Clara dropped Houston from 12th to 20th in the rankings, but the Cougars were more fortunate than Duke and Iowa. Duke, ninth a week ago, lost three straight and dropped clear out of sight. Iowa, ranked 19th last its perfect 6-0 record at Denver.

Cincinnati's effort against unbeaten USC collapsed when ace Jim Ard fouled out only three minutes into the second half. The Trojans soon boomed out to a 27-point lead and Cincy couldn't recover. Rock Robertson led the Bearcats with 25 points, but 7-foot-1 Ron Taylor got 27 for USC.

Lamar Tech hit 9 of its first 12 shots and Tulsa was never in the game thereafter. Rob Washington, with 30 points, and Bobby Smith, with 20, couldn't keep up with Tech, which got 26 points each from Phil Endicott and Earl Dow.

Louisville led 49-40 at the half but Florida State rallied to get within one point, then missed a shot with one second left that might have beaten the Cardinals. Butch Beard had 24 points for Louisville.

Replacing Duke and Iowa in the rankings were New Mexico State and Louisville, both 5-0. State took 14th place and Louisville 19th.

Kansas headed the second 10 with 130 points for 11th place. Purdue was No. 12 and Detroit 13th in front of New Mexico State. In 15th position was California, up three spots from last week; LaSalle was 16th, a four-place climb; Ohio State was 17th and Western Kentucky 18th in front of Louisville and Houston.
